

Deborah King

Deborah King is a New York Times bestselling author, spiritual teacher, and leading authority on energy medicine. Deborah was a successful attorney in her 20s when a diagnosis of cancer sent her on a search for truth that radically changed her life. Unwilling to undergo invasive surgery, Deborah turned to alternative medicine and had an amazing remission. Along the way, she conquered the alcohol and drug addictions she had used to bury an abusive childhood.

Leaving the corporate arena for the mysterious world of healers, sages and shamans, Deborah mastered ancient and modern energy healing systems, ultimately developing a powerful technique of her own.

Deborah is an inspirational teacher, speaker, and changemaker who is featured regularly in broadcast, online, and print media; she has a popular weekly live video show on Facebook with a following approaching half a million. Her New York Times bestselling Be Your Own Shaman, Truth Heals, Entangled in Darkness, and Heal Yourself – Heal the World, guide the reader through a personal transformation so they too can lead, and “become the change they want to see.” W magazine calls Deborah’s work “electrifying.”

As a writer, Deborah weaves together a willingness to explore the unknown with clear tips and ideas any reader can use and understand. Deborah is a featured contributor in a number of print and online publications, including The Huffington Post and Psychology Today.

As a spiritual teacher, Deborah has honed her message of hope through nearly four decades of intense study, reflection, and work with tens of thousands of individuals. What truly separates her from so many others, however, isn't her fame – it's the compassion she shows for every person she meets. She feels strongly that her mission is to spread and share what she's learned to help others enjoy healthier, happier, and more fulfilling lives.
